

The Head In Clay

Tutored by Lucianne Lassalle

Spend 3 days in a modern studio, nestled in nature, as we work from a model and create a portrait study, focusing on careful observation of the human head and face. Allow your individual style and unique creative perspective to come through too!

The workshop is suitable for all but experience of life-drawing or observational studies of the human figure, in any material, would be useful. You will be tutored individually and will be encouraged to work at your own pace.

If you wish to preserve your finished work, you will need to take it away, hollow it out and have it fired, at your own cost. (We might offer a hollowing-out half-day session a week or two later, at an additional cost.)

Fri 20th - Sun 22nd Nov, 10:00 - 16:30

£330 includes materials, tools, tuition, life model, delicious home-cooked lunches, refreshments and wonderful views of nature.
